Rice Lake Plains Project Area

As a private landowner in the 'Caring for the Moraine' Project's Rice Lake Plains Area you can play an important role in maintaining a part of the Oak Ridges Moraine and protecting your property's natural features for future generations, by undertaking various conservation projects. The Caring for the Moraine Project offers free site visits, technical advice, workshops, resource materials and financial assistance to landowners.

Types of projects funded:

1. Native tree/wildlife shrub planting for a variety of projects including: riparian buffers, wildlife corridors, wildlife habitat, etc.
2. Fencing livestock from woodlands, wetland, and riparian.
3. Alternate watering of livestock (after fencing).
4. Grassland, tallgrass prairie, savannah restoration.
- removal of invasive species, re-seeding native plants, prescribed burns.
5. Species at risk habitat enhancement.
